Adirondack Regional Immigration Collaborative (ARIC.network) and Lifeworks (lifeworksaction.org) are holding a training day intended to create a supportive community for immigrants and temporary workers. The training is designed for workers, schools, employers, churches, agencies and caring neighbors and will consist of Know Your Rights and Rapid Response workshops. It is free and will be held in North Creek on July 12th. If you are interested, email Regina Chabarek: rchabare@nycap.rr.com. She will send you details and registration information. Registration closes on Friday, July 11th or at maximum capacity.

Prayer for Evangelization
As You reach out to the world,
Lord, let us be Your hands!
As You answer those crying, send us.
Let us be Your people, answer to prayers prayed,
comfort to the afflicted.
May we be laborers in Your harvest.
Amen. ©LPi

Deeper Understanding of Scripture

Luke 10:1-12, 17-20

In the days after the awful 2020 killing of George Floyd, a Catholic friend remarked, "Racism is today's great evil. We should put all our energy into fighting it." I admired her intuition that the church must stand firmly against evil. Amen, I thought. At the same time, something felt wrong. As months went by, I saw her steadily slide into bitterness and anger. Soon, despondency. She spoke of giving up the fight. Don't we too wonder how to fight evil without losing our joy or energy?

Jesus' words this week help. He says, "Rejoice not that you have power over demons, but that your names are written in heaven" (Luke 10:20). Notice the asymmetry in where he wants our focus: on the latter, not the former. Should we confidently embrace our God-given power to overcome evil? Absolutely. But even more so, we should emphasize the positive element of our relationship to God. It is tempting but dangerous to define ourselves by what we oppose. It is better to define ourselves by—to rejoice in—what we celebrate: in Jesus, God has written our names in heaven. This sustains our battles.

This week, our marching orders are: fight evil. But more deeply, rejoice that God knows and loves us personally, individually. We allow this joyful knowledge to undergird our fight against the darkness of our day. Then we enjoy long-term stability to be cheerful warriors, who never forget the reason for the contests we are called to fight and win: love. — Father John Muir ©LPi
